A note about text

Important please note: Do not copy and paste directly from a Word document, website or email into the admin area as this will also copy across hidden code that will disrupt the web page and in some cases break it. You can either:

1. Copy and paste into a plain text programme (like notepad) and then copy again before pasting into the CMS.
2. Use the paste as text function in Wordpress. Press the 'Paste as Text' button before copying content. The button has a symbol of a clipboard with a letter T on it.

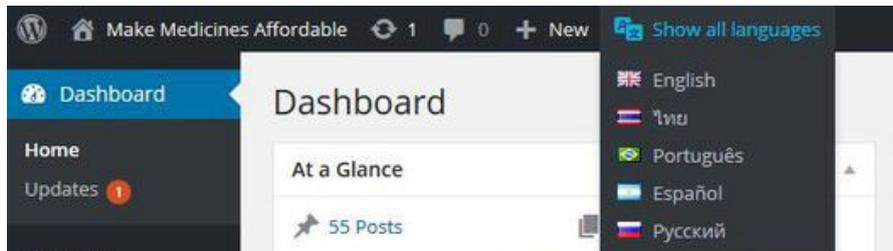

After updating the website from the CMS it is recommended that you check on the website to see if the amends have been made and appear as you wish them to. If the live website hasn't updated refresh the browser window to force new changes.

Choose your language

1. Go to the drop down menu at the top of the page (it'll probably say 'Show all languages' (unless already changed))
2. Select your chosen language.
3. This will mean you only see the posts and pages that are in your language.

4. This selection will be remembered next time you come to the admin area.

Pages

The majority of the site content can be found in the page section
www.makemedicinesaffordable.org/wp-admin/edit.php?post_type=page

Click on a page name to edit.

Posts (News)

- Save the draft for later or publish to go live

Widgets

Small elements of content - for example some text on the homepage and elements of the footer can be found under Appearance > Widgets. www.makemedicinesaffordable.org/wp-admin/widgets.php

Languages and translations

All parts of the website can be translated either manually or automatically.

Manual translations

- Create a new post / drug / country / strategy in a specific language.
- Once published you can create translations of that page by clicking the + symbol next to the flag of that language.
- This will take you to a new edit page and you can fill the fields with your manual translations of title, text, and feature image.
- Repeat this for the other languages.

Pages, countries, drugs and categories can all be translated in the same way

When you are finished check the live site. Check that the right page is appearing in the right language and everything is as it should be.

Embedding YouTube videos

- Find the video you wish to embed on YouTube
- Under the video name click on 'share' then 'embed'
- Copy the code - it will look something like this `<iframe width="560" height="315" src="https://www.youtube.com/embed/Vmiqw466Nzw" frameborder="0" allowfullscreen></iframe>`
- Go into the MAA wordpress and into the page/post you want the video to appear in. In the main text content area you will see that you can toggle between two tabs - visual and text. Make sure you are in the 'text' tab before pasting the embed code into the content.

Images

When you add images to the media library make sure they are at least 800px wide.

On the countries and drugs pages the images are a little more of a 'letterbox' ratio. This could also work well on other pages. Images on these pages are 800 x 350px. Be aware if they are also used on an intro page as a feature image they need to also crop down to square - so the content is best featured in the centre of the image.

You can also add images as needed into a page. Images can be 'floated' left or right to allow the text to run around them. When you insert an image go to the bottom right hand side of the image options choose an alignment of left or right, image size medium, with no link.

Be aware of the image size you embed into a page - embedding the original at hi-res maybe take someone on a mobile a long time to download.

Wordpress will try and add alternative information for screen readers into the code. This is called an alt attribute. Ideally this should be left empty. When editing locate the 'visual' and 'text' tabs. Make sure you are on text. On an image you will see some code similar to this

You can delete any info that Wordpress might have inserted into the Alt Attribute. alt="no need for any text here".

Please do not upload images with text on them. The text won't be able to be read by screenreaders and can't be resized by people on mobile devices or people with visual impairments.

Only use images that you have permission to use. Please don't copy and paste images from other websites into the content. Upload all images to the media library.

Please use high quality images.

Accessibility

Links

Do not use the words 'click here'. Try to add a link to text to describe what the link is for example 'for further information visit the Argentina page'. Imagine that someone is skipping though the links on a page with a screenreader (device used by the blind and partially sighted) each link it reads out needs to make sense.

If you are going to send someone to another site pre-warn them. For example 'for more information about Argentina visit the Argentina tourist board website'

For a link that will be something unusual flag that up for the user for example Download Resource Name \(PDF 23kb\)

Please do not underline text - only links should be underlined (the system adds the underline for you).

Titles

Try to keep titles short and snappy - this includes news posts, pages and resources.
